ENTERTAINMENT TO THE COLUMBIA - Last evening, the Columbia Fire Company enjoyed a rich entertainment, given by their guardian patroness, her mansion being thrown open to the members to make themselves at home The refreshments, though excellent, were the smallest part of the evening's entertainment, was singing by Mr. P. M. Dubant, the Madam | dent as wood-sawyers. accompanying on the piano, and the fair entertainer sang, "Oh, would I were a boy again," in a manner that made the "boys" wish they had all their lives to go over again. At an early hour the company separated, leaving the kind lady to "slumbers light," and adjourned to the engine house. Here we found a valuable little library, which it was gratifying to ascertain was well thumbed by the studious members. Mr. Tait, the werthy president, Mr. Brown, the vice president, and Mr. McDermot, the secretary, as well as others of the spirited company, were at their posts, and the "minute men" were lying on their arms waiting any call for the use of the Columbia Without disparagement to others. we must say that the Columbia is among the best of the gallant firemen of Washington city. May they forever "wave," with an angel to keep watch for them "aloft and alow."

TRIAL OF THE NEW ORGAN FOR THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH .- According to the announce ment we made the other day, the above church was thrown open to the public on Thursday evening last, for exhibiting, and to test the absence imposes upon many of the merchants qualities of the instrument just constructed of their own city and ours, that instead of any for that congregation, by Jardine of New York, a description of which we gave in our about plans of a bridge, they would very soon issue of Wednesday; Professor Shell presiding, and the choir under the direction of Mr. E. Brown. The performance were pleasing, and the organ gives entire satisfaction. Its dimensions are 10 feet 3 inches wide, 6 feet deep, and 13 feet high, and cost $1,000. The credit of procuring this instrument is due to Master Charles Hill, son of the pastor, whose untiring exertions—it gives us pleasure to record—have been crowned with such abundant mission school. While our religious denomisuccess. This sweet-toned instrument stands a monument of his perseverance. Mr. J. C. Fill is, we understand, to be the organist. AN ESCORT FOR THE DEFENDERS .- We asserted, yesterday, that, as a matter of course, there would be an escort to the Old Defenders on their passage through Washington on the 12th of September, and were not mistaken in munity. our assertion. It turns out that the Washington Light Infantry has already proffered an escort, and that their offer has been accepted. This is the most appropriate escort that could come from our city, being the oldest company we have, and replete with associations of the past. The Light Infantry celebrate on the 12th flames, and would probably have caused a seits eighteenth anniversary. Its first parade rious fire, had not Dr. H King happened to be was made on the 12th of September, 1836, under the late Capt. John A. Blake, and has the blazing curtain out into the street. regularly paraded this day from that time to the present, without intermission. May they continue to prosper as an ornament and pride to our city, is our hearty wish.

VALERY GONEZ .- By the Baltimore Sun we on the 7th, when she was received with the greatest enthusiasm. The excellence of the prima donna's voice, and its effect on the pub lie, prove that she was highly appreciated. Her voice is a brilliant soprano, of great compass and beauty, and cannot fail to please. In company with the prima donna are Mdlle. Urso, the young female violinist, whose wonderfal performances are very well known, and Mons. Wolunski, the brilliant and masterly performer on the piano. The concert anand will be given on Monday night next, at very properly reduced to fifty cents.

RETURN OF THE WASHINGTON TURNERS .-The delegation of the Washington Turners have returned from Philadelphia, where they passed an interesting time with the Turner bands of the United States-about sixty associations being represented. Stephen Brown, the President of the Washington Society, and all the delegation speak in the highest terms of the festival, and fortunately had no hand in the fight that occurred through inadvertence on the part of the Germans from other cities mistaking the officers for an assailing party. The next festival, we understand, will take place next year at New York, and a very grand meeting is expected.

anniversary, and the National Guards also parade on that glorious day to a sister city. The troops visit the residence of a generous member, Mr. Thoma; the National Guards enjoy the hospitality of Col. Hickey, and the Light Infantry turn out as an honorable murder of George Cox and the committal of pass through this city to Alexandria. We have heard of no other military movements in connection with the "glorious day."

Were Sensible.—We are gratified to hear that the quarrel between the Colonel and Old leans people out of thirty or forty thousand Joe has been amicably settled. They had a dollars, and then left for another and a better Joe has been amicably settled. The amende honorable, however, has passed, and the cuerious are advised to keep their tongues still about it, and let the matter be a thing of other days. The Colonel and Old Joe cooled their coppers on the matter, shook hands, and are friends again. "Wery sensible."

THE DUST .- The dust, the dust-the everrising, blowing, blinding dust—shall we ever get rid of it? Yesterday afternoon, a dust-storm arose, and so thick was it that persons were undistinguishable across the Avenue. It put us in mind of Key's patriotic song, commencing—"O, say can you see?"—an inquiry quite apprepriate to the occasion, for there were very few who could "see" at all. A slight rain fell, and a beautiful rainbow appeared, giving promises that have not yet been fulfilled. No rain.

GEORGETOWN CORRESPONDENCE.

GEORGETOWN, September 9, 1854. "When are we to have a bridge over Rock Creek?" is a question that we hear asked half a dozen times a day. We would be very glad if it were in our power to answer it, and relieve those most interested in the matter of their anxiety upon the subject. But as it is a matter that rests wholly with the corporation of Washington, we must let "patience have its perfect work" by waiting their tardy move ments. We think it more than likely, however, that if the Councils were aware of the vast amount of inconvenience and expense its adopt a plan for one at this point, and thus re move a difficulty in the way of business which has existed too long already. We have been informed by those who know, that the want of this bridge causes a considerable loss to our merchants and others. See to it, gentlemen.

We have been informed that John Marbery. Esq., has given to the Episcopalians a lot of ground,on Cherry alley, on which to erect a nations, and benevolent private individuals, are moving so effectively in this matter, our corporate authorities should be taking steps for the establishment of two or three public schools.
